Reading Matter on First Page.
We refer our readers to the first page of the Democrat this morning. It contains three excellent letters—two from Indiana, and one from Elizabethtown, Ky., giving an account of the canvas. Read it all!

The Democrat costs ten cents per week, payable to the carriers; and it is served between in all parts of the city, Portland, Shippingport, Jeffersonville, and New Albany, promptly, by faith-fail carriers. Every Democrat should subscribe. Who will go without the news, when it can be served them, at their own doors, bright and early in the morning, at so cheap a rate? Orders left at the office, or with the carriers, will receive prompt attention.

Connecticut and Delaware!

It will be seen, from the despatches in another column, that

The Untirified Democracy HAVE CARRIED CONNECTIGUT!
They are now声和, and the returns yet to come will be still better. They have also Swept Little Delaware Clean!

Baltimore and Blood!

To the greater disgrace of the Know-Nothing party, they have carried Baltimore in the midst of DISORDER, RIOT, and BLOODSHED! The victories of that party are followed by FUNERALS.

How long will the people of the cities allow ruffians and blackguards to interfere with the right of suffrage, and rule them by force and fraud? Are our cities to be enslaved by cut-throats?

Lectures on Orthoepy.

Within the last week or two, several of our schools have had the opportunity of listening to lectures on Orthoepy by Rev. Mr. McKinley. All who have attended his course, have expressed themselves highly pleased. Most of the pupils have made very remarkable progress in a knowledge of the elements of our language, and of the laws that govern the combinations. Mr. M. has devoted many years of his life to the attempt to generalize the facts in English pronunciation, and has succeeded in educating many useful principles. We know of no work which contains the amount of instruction which he gives. When all the words in the language have been, as far as possible, classified, there will still be found a greater number of exceptions to every general rule. Mr. McKinley's plan is to set forth the rule with a sufficient number of examples to impress it upon the mind, and then to make the pupil familiar with the exceptions. This is the nearest approach to classification, of which our language is capable.

By referring to exception to the rule, the pupil can see what the deviation consists, and this will tend to impress the irregular word upon his mind. We believe that the adoption of Mr. McKinley's plan would relieve both teacher and pupil of an immense amount of labor.

An EXTRAORDINARY TREE.—P. D. Jones, Esq. of Oldham county, recently felled and worked up an oak tree up on his farm, which yielded an almost unprecedented amount of timber. The tree was seven feet in diameter at the stump, and Mr. Jones manufactured from it 3,200 staves; if the tree had been entirely sound he would have made quite 4,000 staves. From this timber 100 flour barrels have already been manufactured, with a sufficient load for 100 more. These barrels are worth 40 cents apiece, and the 200 will aggregate $80. Deducting expenses Mr. Jones will realize the net sum of $75 for the single tree. A very handsome return, we think.

FILIGREE'S PROGRESS TABLEAUX.—The ever changing and thrilling scenes of Bunyan's Pilgrim, beautifully illustrated in panoramic view, drew together a large and delighted audience last night, at Mozart Hall. This is a very beautiful and effective continuous series of pictures, in the highest degree instructive and entertaining to old and young, and exhibiting in their execution a skill which the pictures themselves are alike deeply interested in viewing these impressive scenes.

SERIOUS AFFRAY.—A friend, who came passer yesterday on the New Albany and Salem Railroad, informs us that a serious stabbing affray occurred, on Tuesday evening, at Cache's Mills, some two miles east of Salem. A man by the name of Colleson had abused the family of a Mr. Rockwell, in H. L.'s absence. When the parties met, an alteration took place, which resulted in Colleson stabbing Rockwell three times. It was thought that Rockwell's wounds would prove fatal.

THE JOHN SIMONDS.—The John Simonds has just been thoroughly repaired, painted and varnished, and is now one of the largest and handsomest boats in the Southern trade, having accommodations for over two hundred passengers, and under the command of Capt. J. W. Gadsby, with Capt. J. H. Fraughton and his assistants in the cabin, she may well be styled a Floating Palace.

PASSENGERS taking the Railroad here on Friday or Saturday will meet boats at Cairo to convey them to Memphis.

ACCIDENT.—A carpenter employed upon Reynolds' new block, at the corner of Sixth and Main streets, in attempting to pass outside from one window to another, yesterday evening, lost his footing and fell to the cellar from the third story. Several of his ribs were broken, and he was otherwise injured so that his life was despaired of at one time, but we learned subsequently that there was a hope of his recovery. The name of the unfortunate man is John Mudwier.

EXAMINATION OF ROYALTY.—A. J. Royalty, was arrested on Tuesday, for attempting to pass a worthless hundred dollar bill upon various clothing merchants on the wharf, whose arrest we recorded in the Democrat yesterday, was partially examined before the police court yesterday; but before a decision was had, his examination was waived until further important testimony could be produced.

BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD.—It will be seen by referring to the advertisement of this road that, under an arrangement now in operation, travelers leaving Louisville by the morning train Saturday will arrive at Baltimore and Washington on Monday morning, thus doing away with the delay over Sunday, which may have extremely inconvenient.

An affray occurred in Franklin, Ky., last Saturday evening, between B. T. Murphy and P. A. Hamilton. Murphy is a tailor, and the day before cut Hamilton with his shears. The next day Hamilton attacked Murphy, when he drew a pistol and shot him, the ball entering Hamilton's side. The wound is considered a dangerous one.

Wife WHIPPING.—Fred Yarnell was arraigned yesterday, before the city court, for whipping his wife. Yarnell has a family of three children, who live in Main and Twelfth streets. He is in the habit of squandering his money for liquor, and whips his wife as a pastime. In default of $200 he was sent to the workhouse a month.

SENATOR ACCIDENT.—A youth about seventeen years of age, by the name of Few, while engaged painting a large fly-wheel yesterday, in the agricultural implement factory of Mann & Chapman, at the corner of Eighth and Green streets, met with an accident in the turning of the wheel, which broke his thigh.

Fair of the Mechanics' Institute.

It requires many visits to the fair for one to obtain a glance at all the articles upon exhibition in the Institute. After the visitor has spent evening after evening in gratifying his curiosity, and just as he congratulates himself that he has seen all the sights, he suddenly discovers something new in a hitherto unexplored nook, which challenges alike his wonder and admiration. Some specimens of

LOUISVILLE MADE PIANOS, contributed to the exhibition by Messrs. Peters,

Clegg & Co., are no novelties in that branch of manufacture. These gentlemen are the pioneers in the production of this instrument in Louisville, and have gradually grown from small beginners to extensive manufacturers. One unquestioned with the extent of the piano trade here would suppose, if he knew the numbers they manufactured in this market, that they alone supplied the demand in this market. The excellence of their instruments is very generally admitted now, and an elaborately carved, beautifully finished, piano-key square piano, among those collected at the Hall, is one of the handsomest and best instruments of the kind we have ever seen. Persons in this latitude who purchase pianos for use, should consult these gentlemen. Atttracted more by the excellence of the articles than by the extent of the display, we were gratified by an inspection of the table of

MESSES. HUNT AND CURTIN, heavy dealers in trunks, carpet-bags, valises, and hat and bonnet-boxes, and who have a store in Third street, adjoining our office. A trunk and bonnet-box to which our attention was called, in point of beauty and utility, has no superiors in the exhibition. These young gentlemen are very enterprising, sell their goods cheap, and are well deserving the confidence and patronage of the public. Indeed, the dealers in

THE PRODUCTS OF LEATHER, have done themselves credit in this exhibition.

The extensive house of A. J. Morrison & Co., of Main street, makes a handsome display. Mr. Jas. Hall, who has a life acquaintance almost in that line of business, and who is the peer of the cleverest gentleman in the land, has a superintending care of Messrs. Morrison & Co.'s business. He is pleasant and accomodating in a friendly manner, and ready to answer any question concerning leather.

EXHIBITION HALL,

which is the same dimensions as last year, it has been observed that a number of visitors will fill it to repetition. The matter-of-fact books accounts for this upon the principle that one fashionable lady expects the same area this year as was allotted to last season. Ladies who thus encroach upon the rights of others, by extending their own proportions, must be hoisted.

The exhibition will be open again to day and to day evening.

THEATRE.—Much as we were pleased Tuesday evening, we were much more pleased last night. The "Marble Heart" was most admirably produced. The characters were all well sustained—that of Raphael with a truthfulness to life in every detail that we seldom find even in good actors—never except with students. Volege, in Mrs. Conway's hands, was a charming portraiture, full of life, wit, brilliancy—full of soul. If Mr. C. had no other claims to excellence, her performances of Volege would establish them.

To-night the performances will commence with the admirable play, "Still Water Runs Deep," in which Mr. Conway will appear as John Milday, and Mrs. C. as Mrs. Sternhold. The after-piece will be the excellent musical drama of "The Lost Ship." This is a most excellent bill, and should draw a full house, notwithstanding the great attractions elsewhere. We have no doubt the house will be filled. We advise everybody to go, except men who wish to talk politics, or eat nuts in the midst of the performances—they will be led away.

RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS.—The case of Wm. Brown, the shoemaker who was up before the police court yesterday on a charge of receiving stolen goods, whose arrest we announced yesterday, created a good deal of interest, as Brown is pretty well known. Mr. Stokes, and the foreman in Mr. Stoeck's establishment, identified the goods as being taken from a store in Harrison county, Ky., died suddenly on Tuesday last.

FINED FOR SELLING LIQUOR.—Francis M. Scott was fined $60 in the police court yesterday for selling liquor without license.
